OBSERVATIONS

Report of the committee of investigation, concluded from our last.

The statements of the accountants although they exhibit balances apparently unaccounted for, to a large amount, will likewise show that accounts have been rendered for a considerable portion, which are in a train of settlement but not finally closed.

The late hour at which the voluminous documents accompanying the report were received by the committee (upon the 9th of April) and the labor necessary to investigate such a mass of accounts, and of advances unaccounted for particularly in the war and navy departments, embracing an expenditure of 20 millions dollars, have rendered it impossible for the committee consistently with the attention to their other duties, to form their opinion as to the manner in which the sum has been expended.—But from the partial view which they have taken, they beg leave to present some facts and principles which they believe to be worthy of the notice of congress.

There are two previous requisities which are necessary to justify the expenditure of public money, and without which no legal expenditure can be made. First that the expenditure for the object to which it is applied should be authorized by law; and secondly, that an appropriation should have been made to cover that authorized expense. In the war and navy departments, this rule does not appear to have been strictly adhered to in all cases; but for the reasons above assigned, the committee have been unable to ascertain, how far it has been departed from. The most prominent instances which have yet presented themselves, are herewith stated:

By an act passed on the twenty-fifth day of February, in the year 1799, authority was given to the President of the United States, to cause to be built six ships of war to be armed with, and to carry not less than 74 guns each, and to build or purchase six sloops of war to be armed with 18 guns each. In part of the necessary expenditures for these objects, a sum not exceeding one million of dollars was appropriated by the same law. And by another act passed on the same day, it was declared that two docks should be erected in suitable places, under the direction of the president of the U. S. for the convenience of repairing the public ships, and the sum of 50,000 dols. was appropriated for that purpose, and by another act passed on the same day, the sum of 200,000 dollars was appropriated to be laid out in the purchase of growing or other timber, or of lands on which timber is growing suitable for the navy, and to cause the proper measures to be taken to have the same preserved for the future use of the navy. Under this authority only, the then secretary of the navy expended the sum of 135,849 dollars 92 cents in the purchase of six navy yards at Portsmouth, Charleston, (Mass.) New-York, Philadelphia, Gosport, (Vir.) and the City of Washington. For this expenditure the committee conceive that no authority was given by law, nor any appropriation made except for the two docks abovementioned, as the sum of one milⁿ dols. was appropriated by the act of '99 for building or purchasing the ships only, and the sum of 200,000 dollars for the purchase of timber. As public ships of war had been before built under a similar authority for the use of the United States, at private yards, and as congress, did, at the same time that they authorized the building or purchasing the ships, provide for the erection of two docks only, the committee are of opinion, that four of the navy yards were purchased without authority, and the money misapplied which was paid for them.

In the war department there likewise appears to have been a transaction equally unauthorized. In the year a pile of buildings was commenced under the directions of the then secretary of war, on the banks of the Schuylkill near the city of Philadelphia, which have since been carried on in a manner highly expensive. These buildings have been called a Laboratory, and although yet in an unfinished state, has already cost the United States 152,608 dollars and five cents, which sum have been paid out of the appropriations heretofore made for the quarter master's department. The committee are of opinion that this expenditure of money could not be justified at any time, but more particularly at a moment when the U. States were borrowing money at a high rate of interest to meet objects which the legislature considered as necessary, and had sanctioned by law.

The committee beg leave likewise to refer to an important principle formerly settled by the executive, and actually practiced upon in the war department, in relation to the expenditure of public money, which they deem improper in a government like ours, where taxes cannot be imposed but by public consent, and where monies arising from those taxes cannot be disbursed but upon the authority of a law previously passed by the representatives of the nation. By an act passed on the 9th of February in the year 1793, the president is directed to cause the monies drawn from the treasury, for the purpose of intercourse with foreign nations, to be settled, by causing the same to be accounted for specifically in all cases wherein the expenditure thereof may, in his judgment, be made public; and by making a certificate or certificates, or causing the secretary of state to make a certificate of the amount of such expenditure, as he may think it advisable not to specify; and such certificates are to be taken as sufficient vouchers for the sums expended to have been expended. The policy of this law the committee do not intend to question, but it is clear that it extends only to cases of compensation for what are usually termed "secret services," that may be rendered to the U. States in their intercourse with foreign nations. The section above recited has been engrafted into two laws passed in the respective years of 1798 and 1800, but in every law on the subject, it has been confined to foreign intercourse and in the act of 1800 is further limited to the contingent expenses only of foreign intercourse. It has not, therefore, been without considerable surprise that the committee have seen the same principle applied to the expenditures of the war department.

In the instructions given by the secretary of war to the accountant of the war department, in his letter of the 28th of Dec. 1797, herewith reported and marked L, a rule is positively laid down, that expenditures for the secret services rendered in relation to the duties of the war department are to be admitted. And on the 20th day of December, in the year 1799, the secretary of the treasury made a report on this subject to the president of the United States (subjoined and marked M) in which the principle is again recognized as applicable to the departments of state, war and navy. On the subsequent day the president accordingly signed two certificates as vouchers for monies said to have been expended in relation to the duties of the war department, which certificates are annexed to this report, and are marked N. and O. The committee entertain no doubt as to the illegality of this measure, as it is authorized by no law whatsoever, and they had flattered themselves that the federal government required no services of any nature which ought to be concealed from the officers of the treasury, or from the legislature. They consider these facts as coming properly under the head of expenditures, not authorized by law.

Two other cases of exceptionable expenditure in the war department, have been sufficiently examined to warrant a report upon them. The first relates to an appointment conferred by the late president on Uriah Tracy, Esquire, in the summer of the year 1800, while he was a member of the Senate of the United States: The second relates to a payment made, from the contingent fund of the war department to Mrs. Ariana French of George-Town, in the month of July, 1800: neither of these are very extensive in amount, but both deemed important for the precedents they may hereafter furnish.

It appears, from a document herewith exhibited and marked P, that Mr. Tracy was appointed "to visit and examine into the state of the garrisons, Indian trading houses, factories, &c. in the N. W. Territory, on the Mississippi, and on the frontiers of Tennessee and Georgia;" and that Mr. Tracy, received for this service the sum of one thousand nine hundred and eighty-five dollars and five cents; seven hundred and fifty three dollars and five cents being for travelling and other incidental expenses, and twelve hundred and thirty two dollars for his compensation, from the 16th of June to the 16th of November, in the year 1800, at 8 dollars per day. From the account exhibited by Mr. Tracy for his expenses, it will be seen that during these 5 months he visited Pittsburg, Presque Isle, Niagara, Detroit, and Michillimachenack but did not fulfil the other objects of his mission.

The committee cannot forbear to remark, that Mr. Tracy's acceptance of this appointment, has the appearance at least of inconsistency with that part of the constitution which provides, that "no person holding an office under the United States, shall be a member of either house of Congress." Mr. Tracy was at the time of receiving the appointment, during the whole of its continuance, and has ever since been a member of the senate of the United States; and from an inspection of the pay roll of the senate, the committee find that for the last seventeen days of the five months of his service, under the above appointment, he not only has his expenses borne by the public to a considerable amount, and received likewise eight dollars per day, but that he at the same time received, as a member of the senate, six dollars per day for travelling from Litchfield, in Connecticut, to the seat of government; a distance of three hundred and forty-four miles—twenty miles being allowed for travelling one day.

James M'Henry, esq. former secretary of war, resigned that office, it is believed, in the month of May, 1800, and the document marked R. hereto annexed, shows that in the month of April preceding, Mrs. Ariana French leased a house to him for one year, to commence from the first of June following; that an award was made between the parties, by which it was declared, that Mr. M'Henry should pay to Mrs. French two hundred and eight dollars and ninety five cents, for damages sustained by her, by reason of his not occupying her house agreeably to the contract, and that in conformity to the opinions of the secretary of the treasury and the secretary of the navy, and by the direction of the secretary of war, this sum was paid to Mrs. French out of the fund for defraying the contingent expenses of the war department.

Upon the whole, the committee are of opinion that considerable sums of public money have been greatly misapplied, and that much expense has been incurred without any legal authority; but for the reasons before assigned, it has been impossible for them to make a complete investigation. Nor do they believe that an investigation entirely satisfactory, can be made, unless the house should think proper to appoint a committee for this purpose to sit during the recess, with directions to make a report to the next session of congress.

The committee deem it their duty to observe, that appropriations for the contingencies of the war and navy departments are, at all times, liable to abuse, not only from the very large sums usually appropriated therefor, but also from the impracticability of specifying by law, the precise object to which such sums are applicable; and the committee are of opinion, that giving publicity to the accounts of the expenditures of monies appropriated for contingencies, would have the most direct tendency to correct the latitude of construction formerly exercised in that respect, by the heads of those departments to promote economy in, and attach a proper degree of confidence to the future proceedings in those departments. And the committee can discern no possible inconvenience in a disclosure of that nature, since they believe that there is no necessity nor propriety for applying the principle of secret money to either of those departments; and at least, it ought to be so considered until it should be otherwise determined by law.

The committee are therefore of opinion, that a clause to this effect ought to be inserted in the bill already reported by them, respecting the accountability of public officers.

For other arrangements which appear to be necessary to "promote economy, enforce adherence to legislative restrictions, and secure the accountability of persons entrusted with public money," they refer to the bill reported by them during the present session, to provide for the due application of public money, and to secure the accountability of persons entrusted therewith, and also to the communication of the secretary of the treasury, made to them on the 2d day of March last.

All which is respectfully submitted.

Additional to, and amendatory of, an act entitled "And act concerning the District of Columbia."

Sec. 1. BE it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America, in Congress assembled, That the circuit court of the county of Washington, in the territory of Columbia, shall have power to proceed in all common law and chancery causes which now are or hereafter shall be instituted before it, in which either of the parties reside without the said territory, in the same way that non-residents are proceeded against in the general court or in the court of chancery in the state of Maryland.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That the circuit court of the county of Alexandria in the district of Columbia, shall have power to proceed in all common law and chancery causes which now are or hereafter shall be instituted before it, in which either of the parties are non-residents of said district of Columbia, in the same way, and under the same regulations observed by the district court, or by the high court of chancery in Virginia, in proceeding against non-residents.

Sec. 3. And be it further enacted, That the courts for the counties of Alexandria and Washington, shall hereafter be holden at the periods following, viz.—for the county of Alexandria on the fourth Monday of June and November, and for the county of Washington on the fourth Monday of July and December, in each year; and all process heretofore issued from the offices of the said courts, and not yet returned, shall be returnable to the first day of the sessions of the said courts, respectively, and all causes now depending in the same shall stand adjourned and continued over to the next sessions of the said courts, as established by this act. And the said courts are hereby invested with the same power of holding adjourned sessions that are exercised by the courts of Maryland.

Sec. 4. And be it further enacted, That no capias ad satisfaciendum shall hereafter issue on any judgment rendered by a single magistrate, or in any case, where the judgment, exclusive of costs, shall not exceed twenty dollars; but that in such cases execution shall be only on the goods and chattles of the debtor, and shall issue by order of the justice who may have taken cognizance of the action, from the clerk's office, and shall be returnable thereto. That all such executions be returnable on the first Monday in every month; and that the same, and also the warrant to bring the party before the justice, be directed to one of the constables, whose duty it shall be to obey the same: That each of the said constables shall give bond with one sufficient security to be approved of by any one of the district judges, for the faithful execution of the duties of his office in the sum of five hundred dollars. The clerk's fees for issuing and filing the return of every such execution, shall be twenty-five cents; the constable's fees for return and service, shall be fifty cents; and that a commission of eight per cent be allowed the constable for every sum thereon by him levied.

Sec. 5. And be it further enacted, That so much of the original act to which this is a further supplement, as confines the jurisdiction of the courts of this territory to cases between parties who are inhabitants or residents within the same shall not be construed to extend to any case where, by the laws of Maryland & Virginia, respectively, attachments may issue to affect the property of absconding debtors, or others having property within the district, and whose persons are not answerable to the process of the court.

Sec. 6. And be it further enacted, That the taxes to be levied in the county of Alexandria, shall hereafter be assessed by the justices of the peace of the said county, and the poor of the town and country parts of the said county of Alexandria, shall be provided for, respectively, in like manner; as the county and corporation courts were authorized to do by the laws of Virginia, as they stood in force within the said county, on the first Monday of December, in the year one thousand eight hundred.

Sec. 7. And be it further enacted, That no part of the laws of Virginia or Maryland, declared by an act of congress, passed the twenty-seventh day of February, one thousand eight hundred and one, "concerning the district of Columbia," to be in force within the said district, shall ever be construed so as to prohibit the owners of slaves to hire them within, or to remove them to the said district, in the same way as was practiced prior to the passage of the above recited act.

Sec. 8. And be it further enacted, That so much of two acts of congress, the one passed on the twenty-seventh day of February, one thousand eight hundred and one, entitled "An act concerning the district

Columbia, the other passed the third day of March, one thousand eight hundred and one, supplementary to the said act, as provides for the compensation to be made to certain justices of the peace thereby created, and for compensation to jurors attending the courts within said district, except so much thereof as relates to their travelling expenses attending the same, shall be, and is hereby repealed:— And jurors, in future, shall serve in the said courts, and be summoned to attend the same in like manner as jurors serve and were summoned in the courts of Virginia, prior to the passage of the above recited act.

Sec. 9. And be it further enacted, That ordinary licenses, retailers licenses, and hawkers and pedlars licenses, shall be granted by the circuit court of the said district in the respective counties, as the same were heretofore granted by the courts of Maryland and Virginia respectively: And the several judges of the said circuit court shall have like authority to grant such licenses in vacation, as the justices of the courts of Maryland and Virginia heretofore possessed: And the money arising from such licenses, shall be applied to the use and benefit of the said counties, respectively, in such manner, and to such purposes as the justices of the levy courts in the same shall appoint and direct.

Sec. 10. And be it further enacted, That the marshal of the district of Columbia be, and he hereby is authorized and directed, with the approbation of the President of the United States, to cause a good and sufficient jail to be built within the city of Washington, and that a sum not exceeding eight thousand dollars, be, and the same hereby is appropriated to that purpose, to be paid out of any unappropriated monies in the treasury.

Sec. 11. And be it further enacted, That the corporation of Georgetown, in the district of Columbia, shall have full power and authority to tax any particular part or district of the town, for paving the streets, lanes or alleys therein, or for sinking wells, or erecting pumps which may appear for the benefit of such particular part or district: Provided that the rate of tax so to be levied shall not exceed two dollars per foot front, and that the same shall be in force and collected in the same manner that the taxes which the said corporation had heretofore been authorized to lay and collect.

Sec. 12. And be it further enacted, That articles inspected at one port in the said district, shall not be subject to a second inspection at any other port in the said district.

Sec. 13. And be it further enacted, That the President of the United States be authorized to cause the militia of the respective counties of Washington and Alexandria, to be formed into regiments and other corps, conformably, as nearly as may be, to the laws of Maryland and Virginia, as they stood in force in the same counties, respectively, on the first Monday in December, in the year one thousand eight hundred; and that he appoint and commission, during pleasure, all such officers of the militia of the said district, as he may think proper; that he be authorized to call them into service, in like manner, as the executive of Maryland and Virginia were authorized in the counties of Washington and Alexandria, respectively, on the first Monday of December, one thousand eight hundred. And that such militia, when in actual service, be entitled to the same pay and emoluments as the militia of the United States, when called out by the President.

Notice.
BY an act of Congress passed at the last session, dated on the 3d May, 1802, that part of the former law respecting the District of Columbia, which directs a small compensation to be paid the justices of peace for their services is repealed; the subscriber not knowing of the repeal of the said provision in the present law, it not being published, did continue to do business under the former, and has in several instances received the usual pay, he therefore gives this notice, that he is ready on application to return any money he may so have received since said 3d day of May, and that he is still ready and willing to serve his fellow-citizens without pay as the law directs, being assured from his own knowledge, and their sentiments expressed in Town Meeting, they do not wish services rendered without compensation from any person. A. FAW.

MONDAY, MAY 17.
NEW-YORK, May 14.
“The war which for so many years had desolated Europe,” is at length terminated. Captain Hall, of the ship Brothers, arrived at this port yesterday in 40 days from Liverpool, brings the official account of the signing of the Definitive Treaty at Amiens. The important event was announced by the Lord Mayor of London by Lord Hawkesbury on the 29th March; and given to the public in a London Gazette Extraordinary, of which the following is a copy:
From the LONDON GAZETTE EXTRAORDINARY.
DOWNING-STREET, 20th March, 1802.
Mr. MOORE, Assistant-Secretary to Marquis Cornwallis arrived this Morning, at Nine o'clock, with the Definitive Treaty of Peace, which was signed at Amiens, at Four o'clock in the afternoon of the 27th inst. by the Plenipotentiary of His Majesty, and by the Plenipotentiaries of France, Spain, and the Batavian Republic.

The member of Parliament for Liverpool, in communicating this intelligence to the Mayor of that port, adds the following for the information of his constituents:—
“House of Commons, 29th March.
“Immediately upon receiving information that the Definitive Treaty was signed, I made application at Lord Hawkesbury's office for information respecting the time that would be allowed for importation of the produce of the captured islands in the West-Indies about to be ceded to the belligerent powers. After some hesitation I received for an answer that no part of the Definitive Treaty could with propriety be made public officially, until the same had been ratified, which would require a fortnight in time.

(Signed) ISAC GASCOIGNE,
M^r. P. for Liverpool.”
To the Mayor of Liverpool.

Extract of a letter from an eminent commercial house in Liverpool to another in this city dated March 31st; inclosing the London Gazette Extraordinary.
“We beg leave to refer you to the above Gazette account, and have only to add that our markets continue extremely heavy, and that we are at a loss to say how far it may affect the prices of produce generally.”

A Nantes paper of the 22d March received at Salem, announces, as part of the conditions of the Definitive Treaty, that the Scheldt is to remain shut, for which Holland is to pay; that Malta is to be under the government of Great Britain; and that Martinico is to be held by the English until payment is made of the sums advanced for the support of the French prisoners.

It is again reported in the German papers that the Hereditary Prince of Orange is to be appointed Chief Consul of the Batavian Republic.

LONDON, March 28.
It is stated, that on the signing of the Definitive Treaty, Cambaceres and Le Brun retire from the Consulate; the first to be Grand Chancellor, and the other superintendent-general of Finances; that Bonaparte will declare himself President for life; his brother Joseph perpetual President of the Council of State, with the power of governing in case of the absence, illness, or demise of Napoleone; the third brother, Lucien, to be perpetual President of the Legislative Body; and Louis, of the Tribunal. Jerome and Baiochi, are not mentioned in the list. Le Clerc and Murat are to be military governors of St. Domingo and of Italy. The Republic, it is added, is to be divided into twenty-five departments, each to be governed by a Prefect, a General, and a Bishop. The Roman Catholic religion is to be the only one paid by the State, and to have 6,000 Cures or Vicars, with a suitable number of inferior Clergy.

The Duke of Kent, it is said, is to be the new governor of Gibraltar.

The jewels of the late Queen of France are said to have been sent by the First Consul for sale to London.

The jewels of the Queen of Portugal are proposed to be pawned for about half a million of money, at an interest of 8 per cent. to answer the demands of the Chief Consul of France upon the Court of Lisbon.

The Batavian fleet, consisting of three ships of the line and a brig, viz. the Brutus, Neptunus, and Jan De Witt, and brig Ajax, under the command of vice-admiral P. Hartink, arrived in Hampton road the 10th instant, from Cape Francois. It is said a part of the squadron will come to this port to refit.

Sending Nancy Dawson to France with a letter,	20,800
Conveyance of Livingston to France,	60,000
Mr. King paid his own passage when he went to London.
Additional expenses, from change of Ministers at two foreign courts,	28,000
Expenses of legal advice to Monsieur Gallatin, while the attorney-general was electioneering at Worcester,	1,000
Total,	142,839

This is a pretty roll “to pass in review and to try all its parts by public utility.” It comes home to the purses, of the citizens—to the “mouth of labor.”

We are credibly informed, that Mr. Giles, prior to the rising of Congress, in a private conversation with Mr. V. R.—, a federal member, expressed himself to the following effect:—“You federalists really do not allow us (democrats) a fair opportunity of proving the merits of our system—You should suffer the present administration to proceed without the violent opposition you give it. Unless you do give this fair chance, I admit, that e'er long we shall again be in the minority. It is impossible for us to hold our present ground with the weight of talents and influence you oppose to us.”

Right Mr. G. for once in your life at least, you are near the truth. You cannot maintain your ground long. You gained it by fraud and misrepresentation—by hoodwinking the people, and by professions which you knew you could never realize in practice. No sooner is the daylight of truth let in on your real motives and views—no sooner shall the people have recovered from the delusion into which they were systematically led, than you will be consigned to the humble obscurity from which you have emerged.

Valuable Building Lots
In and adjoining the town of Alexandria,
For sale on a long Credit.
On Wednesday, the 16th day of June, will be sold at public auction, on the premises,
About forty five acres of LAND, in and adjoining to the town of Alexandria, and binding on Hunting creek. This land will be divided into squares, according to the plan of the town, and each square will be sold separately, on a credit of six, twelve, fifteen and eighteen months—the purchasers giving notes negotiable in the bank of Alexandria, with approved endorsers.

The whole of this land is now enclosed by a post and rail fence. Its contiguity to the town, and its high and healthy situation render it amongst the most desirable estates in the neighborhood for building lots. On one of the lots a neat and commodious framed dwelling house hath been erected, together with the necessary out-houses, and on this lot there is a well of good water, and a number of flourishing trees growing. Some small frame houses have been erected on an adjoining lot.

The title to this property is complete, and conveyances will be made in fee simple when the purchase money is received. The title papers may be seen, and likewise a plat of the land and lots, by applying to the subscriber.

JAMES H. HOOE.
At the same time and place will be sold a LEASE for thirteen years of twenty seven acres of LAND adjoining the above tract: subject to a ground rent of twenty seven pounds per year.

ADVERTISEMENT.

I will sell the plantation on which I now live containing 112½ acres.
 This land is in a high state of cultivation, the soil well adapted for the culture of small grain, Corn or Tobacco; is exceedingly well watered with never-failing springs, one of sulphur, and two pleasant streams passing through it—there are on the premises a convenient store, dwelling house and a good log kitchen adjoining large new barn, tann-house and yard what other necessary houses. About one half of this land is cleared and under good fencing.
 There is on the premises a young bearing orchard of choice fruit-trees, a small meadow fit for the scythe, and ten or twelve acres more may be made; these lands are situated in a healthy neighborhood, convenient to several merchant mills, and within one mile of the turnpike road leading from Snickers's Gap to Alexandria, and about 8 miles from said Gap. Possession will be given immediately, or in the fall
 next, which ever best suits the purchaser, and an indisputable title will be given upon the payment of the purchase money.
